

What They TELL You VS. What They DON'T Tell You About WAR!

What They TELL you...

“This is about preserving our values of democracy, freedom, peace, and fairness for the next generation of Canadians, so they can enjoy the same security and prosperity that was given to us by our parents and grandparents. It is about supporting and honouring members of our Armed Forces and equipping them with the resources they need to keep Canadians safe in an increasingly unpredictable world.”

What They DON'T tell you is...

Watson Institute for International & Public Affairs (2023) reports that countless people have either died or fallen terribly ill because of war and its relentless destruction of hospitals, infrastructure and the environment. According to the Institute, an incalculable number of people have sustained injuries, illnesses, disabilities and displacement due to the incontestable horrors of war.

What They TELL you...

“Members of our Armed Forces serve our country with unwavering dedication [...] With [more military spending] we’re strengthening the CAF with transformative investments in equipment, capabilities, and talent [...] these investments will keep Canada safe, secure, and prosperous” (Prime Minister of Canada).

What They DON'T tell you is...

According to the Conflict and Environment Observatory (2020), “Military training creates emissions, disruption to landscapes and terrestrial and marine habitats, and creates chemical and noise pollution from the use of weapons, aircraft and vehicles.”
